New Advertisements.

MERCURY IS A FAILURE.—Physicians admit this fact at last; but their material medica offers no efficient substitute for the discarded mineral. No single root or plant comprises all the properties required to cure the malignant disorders for which mercury at one time was universally prescribed. It would be still necessary to resort to it as the least of two evils, if Bristol's Sarsaparilla were not in existence. This combination of vegetable extract acts upon the liver and the blood much more favorably than calomel or blue mass, and is free from all their drawbacks. The necessity for using mineral medicines has been entirely removed by this pure and genial specific for all diseases of an ulcerous, scabious, or bilious type.

MERCED CONVENT FUND.

The charitable Friends who have kindly promised donations to the Merced Convent Fund, are respectfully requested to send the payments as soon as convenient, the progress of the building being now retarded for want of Funds. That it has progressed hitherto so rapidly is owing entirely to the generosity of those who have paid.

A few weeks' delay in the building, at this time of the year, may now delay the opening of the Establishment for months, on account of the winter season.

The following simple statement may be satisfactory to the Public:—

FIVE NEW RAILWAYS.

Tenders will be received by the National Government up to July 9th, 1873, for the construction of the following lines and branches at the rates expressed:

| | Per mile. |
|---|---|
| 1st. B. Ayres to San Juan | £5,878 |
| 2nd. Mendoza to Chile | 10,775 |
| 3rd. Catamarca and San Juan | 5,878 |
| 4th. Tucuman, Salta, and Jujuy | 8,817 |
| 5th. Corrientes to Mercedes | 8,817 |

All these are to be narrow-gauge lines of 1 metre, and they are not to be constructed for Government account, like the Rio Cuarto and Mercedes lines, but by contractors or joint-stock companies, to whom the Government will give a 7 per cent annual guarantee, within the above cost per mile. They must all be completed within five years. The legal residence of the companies and the payment of dividends to be within the Argentine Republic. The Government may fix the tariff during the 20 years of the concession, and also interfere at any time afterwards that the net profits exceed 12 per cent. per annum. One-half the gross receipts shall be put down for working expenses when calculating the guarantee, except on the 2nd and 4th lines, in which 55 per cent. shall be allowed. Contractors will be obliged to give a guarantee or make a deposit of £20,000 before commencing. If they finish before the time stipulated, the Government will pay them a premium of £2,000 per month; in a contrary case, they must pay a penalty of £5,000 a month. The Government will appoint its own inspectors to oversee the works, and if at any time the stations or rolling stock be inefficient, the Government may suspend the guarantee till the defect be remedied. The companies shall be exempt from taxes for 20 years. The National Government will exert itself to procure all the necessary lands gratis, or else expropriate same for account of the company.

The 1st line will start from Buenos Ayres, pass through Rojas or Junin, then across Indian country to Mercedes (San Luis), where it will meet the wide-gauge line which the Government is about to construct at its own cost from Rio Cuarto. The narrow gauge will then push on to San Luis city, thence by way of La Paz to Mendoza, terminating at the foot of the Andes. Most of this line will be smooth work over the Pampas, and as the above figure (£5,878) is about equal to £7,000 for a 5½ foot gauge, it is likely there will be a good many offers for it. It must be begun in 6 months from signing of contract, and concluded in five years.

No. 2 may either be drawn from Mendoza by the Uspallata, or San Juan by the Los Patos pass, towards San Felipe in Chile, as far as the limit of Argentine frontier. Surveys of both must be presented, and the works commenced in 12 months after approval. This is a very difficult line, and Mr. Clark's concession from the Chilian Government is, if we rightly remember, at £12,000 per mile.

The 3rd is called the Totoralejos, because starting from that point on the Cordoba and Tucuman line, and will pass through Rioja, and the Marayes coal-fields to San Juan, throwing out a branch to the city of Catamarca. The price (£5,878 per mile) seems to us very low. The works to begin in 3 months after Mr Lumb's railway reaches Totoralejos, and finish in 5 years.

No. 4. Tucuman to Jujuy is like a prolongation of Mr Lumb's line northwards, but through a much more uneven country. For this reason the price is 50 per cent. over B. Ayres and S. Juan line. This line will also connect Salta. Works to begin in 3 months after Mr Lumb reaches Tucuman, and finish in 5 years. The only town of the Upper Provinces left without railway communication will be Santiago del Estero.

The 5th line will be in the province of Corrientes, connecting the city of that name with the terminus (Mercedes) of the Eastern Argentine wide-gauge railway from Concordia, in E. Rios. Works to begin in 6 months, and finish in 3 years. Sundry rivers and swamps are the only obstacles met with.

The above lines sum up about 1500 miles, the cost of which will be about 10,000,000 sterling; the guarantee on this will be £700,000, of which the Government will probably have to pay one-half.

'HOW I FOUND LIVINGSTONE.'

The utility of a newspaper seems to have no bounds; its uses are being daily developed as is the mysterious power of electricity. The press is usually called the Fourth Estate but in another generation it will be the first. There is no harness to bind it down, no power to hold it in. There is no genius to measure what the world would have been had the New York Herald flourished in the age of Augustus, or James Gordon Bennett been a schoolfellow of Homer. The growth of the press is the growth of the world, wherever it thrives civilization progresses; as is the sun in the heavens that illumines the world and sheds its rays upon the varied occupations of man, so is the press in the moral world without which all would be Cimmerian darkness. Its defects errors and vices are like spots on the great dise, and come and go but never diminish the light.

Not since Guttenberg was born or Caxton pulled off the first proofs has there been a paper so abused, vilified, hounded down, and yet so prosperous as the New York Herald. A Scotchman dared to publish a newspaper in New York that, belonging to no party, attacked all; that in the race with its colleagues conformed to no customs, obeyed no precedent, and—we were about to add, respected no principle. But the grave has recently closed over the greatest editor that the world has produced—James Gordon Bennett—and we are here, not to write his biography but to speak to his posthumous victory, for the work before us testifies to a victory achieved by enterprise which only successful editors possess, and won by a liberality that even a throne could not outdo.

The peculiarity of the work before us is, that it is a newspaper-book: its style, method and compilation are but the stereotype of a morning journal. Its chief interest is its freshness;—for who could read through a volume of 736 pages about places whose names are unintelligible as they are unpronounceable. A six penny pamphlet upon such a subject would be more than sufficient.

There may be a few who will read this book for the purpose of gaining an insight into the intrinsic capacity of Central Africa, for improvement, and seek to gather from Mr. Stanley's travels some explanation why that country has so long resisted the efforts of man and the improving influence of time. Every school boy knows the position, extent, inexhaustible fertility and many natural advantages of the country through which the author has travelled; and the book before us is more instructive in teaching the neglected state of that land, and the solemn fact that the seeds of our civilization can never take root in its sands than its smatterings on the palm oil trade or its insight into the Bolsa of Zanzibar.

To review this book, and to do ample justice to the author within the narrow limits allowed for such subjects in the columns of this journal, is a harder task than that which Mr. Stanley attempted. After much industry we have read through the work, and closed the volume with the unwilling conviction that it is altogether beyond our measure. Even short, lively extracts to give our readers a 'gout' for the book, our space prohibits, and in such a dilemma we gladly lay hold of a succint schedule of the work that we find in the Saturday Review of November 16th, 1872.

"The narrative naturally falls into three parts. First there is Mr. Stanley's journey from the coast to the charming town of Unyanyembe, the half-way house to Ujiji. Secondly, there are the adventures which befell Mr. Stanley in forcing his way past hostile tribes from Unyanyembe to Ujiji; and, thirdly, there is the residence with Dr. Livingstone, and the return to the coast. The three parts, it may be said, rise successively in interest. The first division of the book reflects only too closely the dreary monotony of African travel. No literary skill which has hitherto been applied to the task is sufficient to enliven the description of how you left a village of dirty negroes in the morning, and struggled through swamps all day, and crossed a river swarming with hippopotami, and approached a wood where there were elephants, and finally got to another village of dirty negroes in the evening. It is only fair to remember that, if the record is dull, the reality must have been duller still. Mr. Stanley, travelling in the rainy season, of course came in for depressing attacks of fever which did not enliven the prospect. He was rash enough to take two horses with him, in spite of, or, as the reader is apt to fancy, because of, the warnings of Dr. Kirk. These provoking animals insisted upon dying within fifteen hours of each other, and thereby not only putting Mr. Stanley to much inconvenience, but perversely fulfilling Dr. Kirk's predictions. He had, indeed, the melancholy satisfaction of cutting them open, in order to prove that they did not, as Dr. Kirk said they would, die of the attacks of the tsetse fly; but at any rate they died, and Mr. Stanley is forced to console himself by declaring that on another occasion he would take four instead of two. A far more unfortunate mistake was that Mr. Stanley took with him two English servants who had some of what we fear must be called our national defects. They grumbled incessantly; they wasted the funds entrusted to them extravagantly; they indulged in debauchery whenever they had a chance; and, finally, they had to be left behind, and died before Mr. Stanley's return. One of them, moreover, took an opportunity of firing a bullet one night through Mr. Stanley's tent within a foot of his head, though it did not quite appear whether he was drunk, mad, or simply ferocious. An uneducated man, who easily gives way to despondency, and is not buoyed up by the same ambition as his employer, is apt to be a useless encumbrance under such circumstances. The struggle in Mr. Stanley's mind between intense disgust at these men's various delinquencies and a certain feeling of pathos at the melancholy end of their career has a certain grimly humorous effect. They were scoundrels, it is probable, but one forgives much to a dead scoundrel when he is your nearest blood relation in an African desert. Mr. Stanley, reached Unyanyembe with tolerable rapidity, in spite of faithless natives, drunken Englishmen, troublesome chiefs, flooded rivers; fever, ants, earwigs, and tsetse flies. At the end of the first act of his troubles he was unfortunately brought into a fresh set of difficulties. A black Napoleon, as he calls him, one Mirambo, was marauding in the country between Unyanyembe and Ujiji. The Arab merchants at Unyanyembe were marching out to fight him, and Mr. Stanley, rightly or not, considered it advisable to join them. In case of success he would be able to push straight for Ujiji. Unluckily for him, one detachment fell into an ambush dexterously prepared by Mirambo. All the rest immediately ran away, and, but for the fidelity of an Arab boy, Mr. Stanley would have been left behind, ad in all probability his skull would at the present moment have been ornamenting a tree in the African forests. He returned, however, in safety, with the "consolation"—such as it was—that he had "done his duty by the Arabs," and proceeded to make a push for Ujiji by a different route.

The second part of Mr. Stanley's expedition seems to have been a good deal easier than the first, the main difficulty being caused by the primitive mode of levying tolls in favour with the negro chiefs. They extorted so much that he was in a fair way of being beggared by the time he could reach his destination. Luckily, however, he escaped by a judicious flank march from the most pressing demands, and ultimately marched into Ujiji with the stars and stripes flying above his head, and had the now celebrated interview with Dr. Livingstone. It was a proud moment, and one in which he had a good right to be proud, and the subsequent description of his intercourse with the great traveller is exceedingly interesting and very well told. The warm enthusiasm which he expresses is pleasant and creditable. As a rule, travellers hate each other; and when one endeavours to realize the position in which they are placed in Central Africa, living in total absence of communication with other civilized beings, worn down by fever, devoured by vermin covered with dirt, and with little to do but to quarrel, one must admit that there is great excuse for them.

Mr. Stanley appears to us to be too good a newspaper correspondent to ever shine in the art of book-making. His style is flippant and conversational; there is more of the 'Editor's Table' in this work than in any book we have seen since our journal was started. The volume was evidently written more for the American than the English public, and as chapters for 'Harper's Magazine' would have been faultless, but as a permanent addition to our libraries its success is as questionable as the public interest in Ugogo or Unyanyembe is ephemeral.

MONTEVIDEO.

Friday.

It is not often that Mr. Buela, the active and clear-headed editor of the Telegrafo is hoaxed, but he thinks that the so-called sea-cook who supplied the harrowing tale of the loss of the French barque Navar, off Sta. Catalina, reported on Wednesday, has been drawing on his imagination for the whole story. The cook's name is Jean Boudonin, and when he first showed himself here last Monday he asked if there was not a French Freemason lodge to help poor sailors. He told how the captain, mate and 11 sailors had perished, while he and 7 others escaped by swimming ashore: how the Spanish brig Isabel, from Rio Janeyro to Rosario picked him up and dropped him here. The compassion excited by his sad story soon procured him clothing and assistance, and he was speedily engaged as cook in a private family. But somehow his narrative did not properly stick together, and when the master of the house asked him to present himself before the French Consul and make his statement, he showed a great repugnance to do so, saying that so many days had elapsed it was not worth while. Meantime Mr. Buela had been consulting all the French captains in port, but none of them had ever heard of the vessel in question; and when he looked down the maritime register of French merchant shipping there was no such vessel. The cook has thrown up his situation and gone on to Buenos Ayres, very much disgusted with the incredulity of the people here, who roundly taxed him with being an impostor. As Mr. Buela says, if such a vessel as the Isabella has gone on to Rosario, the captain will be able to say whether John Boudonin's story is true.

Several investigations of Government officials are at present going on. Major Rodriguez is detained at the Cabildo until the circumstances attending his having accidentally shot his orderly are fully examined into. The court-martial on Col. Patiño is being prosecuted under the direction of Capt. Arreguy. The enquiry respecting the Juez de Paz of Minas, who is charged with having flogged some Frenchmen, continues; the Democracia publishes a long letter on this subject.

The authorities at Pando are accused in the Tribuna of having assaulted the house of a Spaniard named Antonio Rosa, at Piedra del Toro, on the 14th inst., with 4 soldiers. It is stated that Baldomero Gomez and Patricio Rosa were beaten about the head, but succeeded in disarming the Commissary. The latter then said he was very sorry for having so much given way to his temper, and that they should all be friends if Rosa gave him back his sword. "But as soon," says Rosa, "as we had "done so, he fell on us again most un-"mercifully, until we disarmed him a "second time." Then he asked Rosa's brother, Eugene, to bring him some water and wash off the stains and bruises he had received from Patricio's stick. While Eugene was doing so, the Commissary went to a bed that was near, and pulling from under the pillow two pistols and two knives, proceeded to assail old Mr. Rosa, who in self-defence knocked him down. While on the ground, the Commissary said they were all friends, and that Mr. Rosa might kill him if he liked; but Rosa senior said he had no motive for doing so. Subsequently the Commissary told Patrick Rosa that if they "came down with something handsome" and signed a paper that they were all drunk, he would say no more about it; otherwise he would ruin them.

Patrick Rosa indignantly refused, and said the only man drunk was the Commissary himself. Thereupon the latter went away and returned at 5 p.m. with all his police force. An Italian brick-layer named Carlos Bernasconi was the first to be engaged, the Commissary giving him a great beating, and finally a cut over the head which is believed to be mortal. Thomas Goblee attempted to remonstrate, but was soon left on the ground. The old lady of the house came out, but received a cut in the head which put her 'hors-de-combat'. Her husband old Mr. Anthony Rosa, coming to her rescue, received 3 slashes in the face. After this the Commissary seeing a peon named Angel Perez (Spaniard), who was coming up with a barrel of water on his head attacked him with much fury, beating him and cutting his arm. A neighbor, Juan Vera, called accidentally to see if Rosa would lend him some mares for threshing; he was speedily pulled from his horse and his head cut open. Then the Commissary went over to Goblee who had a jug, with which he was washing the peon Bernasconi's wounds: taking the jug he broke it on the peon's head and retired. He also beat ten or eleven women and children attracted to the spot; his policemen looked on.

Tile-roofs are not always the safest. The police report mentions a thief on Wednesday night taking up some tiles and dropping so quietly into Captain Beltran's room that he made off with a bundle of clothing before Beltran had perceived the unexpected visitor.

The Bull Company of Union announce that they have 300 bulls for fighting.

The body of an Italian bootmaker drowned bathing was yesterday picked up alongside the French frigate Venus.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Fire! Fire! The well-known English Bazaar in Calle Florida, opposite the fashionable Apothecaries Hall of Messrs. Jones and Seydorff, had a narrow escape of destruction by fire on Friday afternoon. Mr. Josephs, the proprietor, had at the moment dismissed one of his assistants, and was writing in his counting house when one of the shopmen rushed in shouting that the back premises were on fire. Mr. Josephs at once dashed to the scene of disaster and found a large deposit of paper, matting, and other materials blazing away at the rate of 1000 miles an hour. With great coolness and presence of mind he seized a Manchester mat of the finest manufacture and commenced to belabour the flames, shouting at the same time for water; this was brought instantaneously, and by incredible exertions he succeeded in extinguishing the flames before any great damage was done; although a quantity of paper and matting was destroyed, and a wooden staircase, leading to the 'altos', charred to a very dangerous extent. On questioning the dismissed employe, who had not left the premises when the fire occurred, he admitted that he might have thrown the butt end of his cigar into the paper. It is extremely well that the conflagration was discovered in time, otherwise another Boston or Chicago affair might have been the result, as there was a high wind blowing. Mr. Joseph's coolness and courage saved not only his own property but, apparently, the most fashionable quarter of town from an annihilating blaze.

We take a glance at 'How I found Livingstone,' by Stanley, in our leading columns. Talking of Livingstone, the auction sale of Mr. Livingstone's furniture on Friday went off 'à merveille,' and in true River Plate fashion, the rubbish at exorbitant prices, the valuables for half nothing. An enterprising Italian secured a lot of carpeting at a 'tip top' figure, but soon discovered that he had been 'bitten,' and requested Mr Madero, the auctioneer, to put them up again, which that gentleman refused to do. Everyone went home satisfied but the Italian in question, which is more than can be said for most auctions.

No French Packet yesterday morning, to the intense disgust of the mercantile community. Those French packets are always coming in 'Paddy last'; but they do their best; and when an ordinary man, a steamer, or editor does his best, it is quite useless to blame him, though there is no obligation to patronize him.

'Les Dragons de Villars' was performed at the Varietes Theatre on Friday night. Madlle Carlany is miles above her compeers, and reminds us of the best Parisian boards. Judging from the look of the house, the cool and beautifully decorated 'patio,' where smoking, drinking and conversation are 'en regle,' is the most popular part of the theatre. Mr. Save, once on a time a light at the Cafe Anglais in Paris, presides over this department, which is 'hors ligne.' There was a masked ball at the Varietes last night, but we could not attend—'malhereusement.'

There was quite a rush yesterday to the establishments of Mackern and Daws to purchase Miriam's Marriage, Mrs. McQuoid's new book. The anxiety to learn who is the shipbroker who treated poor Nancy so infamously is intense. Perhaps not one in a hundred readers will be able to recognize the original of the poor girl's unmanly persecutor; however, let them try!

The weather was 'galupcious' yesterday, 81 in the shade; a nice respectable temperature. A good shower, perhaps a cat and dog deluge, is probable to-night or to-morrow morning. In any case we are unlikely to have a repetition of the heat of the past two weeks.

We have been told that the site of the new Catholic College near Palermo, under the direction of that good clergyman the Rev. Mr. MacNamara, is the famous quinta del Sar, a really splendid site for such an establishment. The house can vie with any European school in the finest accommodation.

The high tide on the beach on Friday was the talk of the town yesterday. Nothing like it has been seen for years in Buenos Ayres. There must have been an earthquake in Banda Oriental or Entre Rios to cause such a tidal wave. At 8 a.m. the water reached the level of the sea wall, and later on invaded the Paseo Julio, where there was general consternation lest the inhabitants should be washed out. Yesterday the flood subsided.

A Yankee has discovered the following process for whitewashing a coloured 'man and a brother.' This is the way he proposes to work it—"The candidate will be first subjected to a bath of alkaline water. Having been well cleaned he is placed in a room where a reliable thermometer indicates 120 degrees of Fahrenheit. After fifteen minutes baking the partially cooked victim is conducted to a bath of chlorine water at the ordinary temperature. The heat has opened all the pores, so that the chlorine flows in and reaches the colouring matter. To keep it in the pores must be closed. To close the pores the subject must be introduced into an ice cellar, where he spends ten minutes in absolute agony, but relative bliss, for the next step is to drop his exhausted form into water heated to 180 degress. In this the pores open, the chlorine grapples the colouring matter and departs with it, and our coloured brother is coloured no more."

Solemn Salomon, the well known "restaurateur" has taken a hotel on the Paseo Julio. We hear there are really splendid dinners to be had there, and company of the same standing as at the Cafe de Paris. What more can any ordinary mortal require? The waiters speak English, French and German, and in case of absolute necessity, Chinese, Welsh, and "bog Latin." Nothing could be better.

A ludicrous police affair occurred on Friday. There was the d—l of a row in some street quite unnecessary to name (all streets are the same in dirty Buenos Ayres). Four combatants drew knives and proceeded to carve each other. The vigilantes came up and arrested the Horatii, also four spectators. The Commissary dismissed the combatants but locked up, or at least detained for some time, the innocent lookers on. Not even the infamous features of the Agrelo case are calculated to bring Justice into so much contempt amongst the masses as this sort of proceeding. The old Spanish custom of arresting both accuser and accused is ridiculous and bad enough; but arresting innocent spectators of a street row is an abuse that the tamest of tame cat populations might be expected to resist.

The auction of Chinese goods on Friday passed off magnificently. A great many of the articles sold were secured by the proprietor of the English Bazaar, Calle Florida, who has announced his intention of selling them at prodigious bargains. Fans, penholders, slippers, and Goodness or Badness knows what, will be going going for a song and a simper this week.

Small change is now so scarce at Montevideo that we learn from a gentleman who has been some time staying there that it is common to see a man go in to George's saloon or the Bolsa Casino for a glass of beer and pay for it with a sovereign. Tramway tickets and postage stamps would be a great relief, if they became "legal tender."

Capt. Nares, of H.M. exploring ship Challenger, who sailed from the Downs on December 9th for the Brazilian coast, met with such severe weather that he had to put in to Portsmouth for repairs. She lost one of her quarter boats. The Narcissus so well-known in the River Plate, left Plymouth sound with Rear Admiral Campbell on Dec. 11th to join the home squadron detached.

Latest New York advices mention that some private friends of the late Gen. Meade clubbed together to present his widow with $50,000. Finding they had $103,000 they invested it for her benefit.

Things were dull yesterday in town. Nothing to point a moral, adorn a tale, or have a skit at. People in general were waiting for the French Packet, and people in particular were as stupid as usual. Something may turn up to-morrow.

Tremendous flare up to night at the corner of Calles Parana and Corrientes!! Elephants, Lions, Tigers, Monkeys, Dogs and Shetland Ponies! Any independent citizen can secure the chance of his family being eaten alive, wife, olive branches and all, for 15 paper dollars. Joking apart, we hear this entertainment is of the best of its kind, and most amusing for children of any growth. The programme and prices will be found in our advertizing columns.

We understand that the agents for Chubb's celebrated safes have received an order from the National Bank to furnish its "Strong Room". Who has not heard of Chubb, the baffler of Bill Sikes and his clan? The safes at present in use by the Bank are by the same celebrated maker.

There are some auctions advertized for to-day. There is a kind of "lingering sweetness long drawn out" about Sunday auctions which even Mr. Nicholas Lowe's able letters have not yet succeeded in extracting. However these Sunday offerings to Mammon are like bad teeth—they must come out sooner or later—and Mr. Lowe 's the man to draw them—with the assistance of Messrs. Bullrich, Madero, Gimenez, Irigoyen & Sala, Serna, Wehely & Gimenez and other Christians. We don't despair of Rome yet.

There was precious little local news yesterday of any kind. The probability of the Bond Market being swamped by the sale of the National Scrip in the Provincial Bank—the action at law against the Republica by Dr. Alsina—the splitting articles in the Pampa—were all subjects of conversation in private and public circles. Some say that the editorial lion of the moment, Mr. E. Paz, is about to attack the financial abominations of the day (including a bank or two) when he has demolished the Bench (which will take him till Easter Sunday, at least) The editorial free lance gave an inkling of what's coming in his issue of yesterday. 'Franchement' this sort of thing may be carried too far. 'When ignorance is bliss 'tis (sometimes) folly to be wise.' Eh ? 'Je crois bien'!

Another rush for Marshall's circulars at The Court yesterday! Buyers of machinery had better look out, as there are but few copies of them left.

An actor named Pio Hermosa (a pretty pious person) went out to shoot on Sunday last at Paysandu with some inexperienced friends. He was carried home with a full charge of No. 4 in his liver, but is expected to recover, as his system was in want of lead. How fortunate! queer system!

The land speculation at Montevideo is 'going to the fair,' which in Ireland is an expressive term for going to the D —l. In a week, lands and Land company's shares there have reached a price that would be considered fabulous even on the Flores Road. In our humble opinion the thing is being overdone, and before it is over there will be 'emigrat on' from 't' other side of Jordan.'

A correspondent of an American paper, writing from Saratoga, in describing the prominent visitors at that popular resort, gives the following description of one of them:—An interesting but rather horrible individual, because so doleful, is a gentleman with a long pale face, eyes deep set in his head, a sepulchral voice, who has the odd fancy of wearing a death's head upon his shirt front. And this death's head is continually opening and shutting its ghastly mouth, which horrid operation is performed by means of a small galvanic battery which its owner carries in his pocket." Pleasant companion at a 'table d'hote.'

We have the latest Rosario papers. We take such an absurd interest in the future capital that we always read the Capital (a very good paper be it said "en passant"). An old gentleman of property has kicked up a prodigious row because the tramway has made a siding opposite his home, but nobody pays the least attention to his reclamation. Of course not! A Biblioteca Popular has been got up at Rio Segundo, but there is a trifling difficulty in finding readers; books are as plentiful as blackberries. The Club Social is going ahead like a house on fire; new subscribers every day. Just like the STANDARD. There is a general objection in Rosario to the suppression of water and scent throwing during Carnival; and anyone who wants to enjoy Carnival by getting wet to the skin has only to take passage to there in one of Mr. Matti's commodious steamers. A grand bonfire of 1800 unclaimed letters was made a few days ago at the local Post-office. Any stray money contained in them was handed over to the 'Damas de Beneficencia.' The funniest thing from sleepy Rosario is, that a lot of land speculators from Buenos Ayres and Montevideo have arrived there in the course of the week! The opening transaction of the new comers was the purchase of a tolerable 'quinta' of four squares in extent for 10,000 Bolivian dollars. Not dear, according to present prices here; but the land flare up at Montevideo and Rosario is evidently only the end of the gigantic agitation in such security going on here for the past year, and which is now subsiding. The 'wash' is being felt elsewhere.

The invasion of Indians lately reported at San Luis turns out 'inverosimil'; so much so that the Caciques and National Commanders about there are reported on 'liquoring up' terms. The thing is all right.

Madame Marziali has returned here from Montevideo. She is going to lie by till next season.

During the past week three persons in San Nicolas and one in Cordoba (a 'peeler') went to 'that bourne,' &c. through the excessive heat of the weather.

News for the ladies. At the Alegria Theatre the polished empresario has fitted up a 'salon' where the ladies can retire between the acts. This room is exclusively for petticoats; no coats at any price.

A lot of chemical and other instruments, have come out from England in the Humboldt for the Jesuits College in Calle Callao.

Rossi appears to-night at the Colon Theatre in "Los Dos Sargentos". The play is a good one and will attract a native audience; but on Tuesday we expect to see the whole English community at Hamlet. It is to be hoped that those Britons who may not be well up in the immortal productions of the Bard of Avon will have the decency to study them at home before taking seats, or at least assume the appearance of a knowledge they have not, and refrain from affording the public the spectacle of genuine Britons following the dialogue of their greatest poet with a 30 dollar copy of the "latest edition" opened on the ledge of their "palco". It is so easy to look as if one understand Italian that there is really no excuse for such "barbarismo", which was generally practised on Signor Rossi's last visit here.

The back patio of Standard Court yesterday reminded us of Ballinasloe. Bullrich had half a dozen horses there for sale. Such horses! Holy Moses! We consider ourselves a judge of good cattle, and frankly admit that the lot were not worth a fourpenny bit. What they fetched is another matter; and we dont know; but at one time we were seriously apprehensive that they would kick in the cover of the well where our 70,000 ounces lie concealed. They did n't however. P. S. Since writing the above we hear the brutes sold for 50 paper dollar each. We were n't far out.

There is a general complaint in town as to the condition of the meat sold for public consumption. The beasts slaughtered are always tired and exhausted, and the meat is, consequently, bad. Estancieros and others coming to town from the country districts turn up their noses in disgust at the meat we are content to swallow in town; the best of it comes under their idea of 'carne cansada.' As for the Municipal Market Inspectors and 'tout cela' every being in town over 10 years of age knows that the whole business is an intense farce.

A very serious bit of news transpired yesterday. The Italian Hospital is so full of patients that no more applications for admission can be entertained. This looks bad.

The grand ball at the Lomas de Zamora Club comes off this day week. There is an enormous demand for tickets, as many people are anxious to see what the place is like by moonlight. The only drawback for people in town is the chance of being pulverized on the railway going down. Bah! A few people more or less make less difference to their friends than they imagine.

The economic Municipality only light the gas in the city now till the Queen of Night rises; when she appears out go the lights and out come the robbers and cut throats. The consequence is any number of assaults and thefts on persons going home late. Such a system in a great city is simply beyond comment; none but the Buenos Ayres Municipality could think of adopting it.

The Pampa still continues it stunning articles on the Agrelo case. It may interest our readers to know that the amount of Judicial Deposits under the control of the Bench to which Mr. Agrelo belongs, is, 26,274—87 mjc. and 145,556 pats. belonging to minors, while the others under the same control amount to 9,918,676 mjc., and 154,755 pats., sums which afford ample scope for operations of any Argentine Bacon addicted to confounding 'meum' and 'tuum.'

A painful example of the results of a May and December marriage occurred in Calle San Juan last week. An old Portuguese fool aged 70 married some time ago a young girl aged sixteen. Of course she got disgusted in a week, and bolted. Her big brother called on December, and not being satisfied with the latter's explanations gave the old donkey a foot of cold steel just under the left rib. It missed his heart by a quarter of an inch. The brother is in the lock up and December in the Men's Hospital.

From the 30th December to the 3rd of January 37 deaths occurred in Rio Janeiro from yellow fever.

A morning contemporary says that the local gentlemen of colour are about to start a paper to write up their caste. The black organ will be called El Artesano.

SUNDAY AUCTIONS.

Altamira, Mercedes,
Jan. 15th, 1873.

To the Editors of the STANDARD.

Gentlemen,

Thanks for your space to move, and seconding the motion emphatically in the right direction, towards suppressing Sunday auctions. There could be much written and said about them, but the best is to do away with them at once, and if I named the most popular auctioneer to lead, I meant it to him as an honor and glory. Neither need the interests of one be sacrificed. It is easy for a few of the leading men to resolve the question and say, "as for us we will NOT sell by auction on Sunday;" the others should soon follow for very shame. Or take another way to do it—declare all sales made on Sunday illegal, as all documents are, and should be. One way or the other let us have no more Sunday sales by auction or any other way—for we need not necessarily stop at that, but to begin with. From this year forth let us cry shame on the father that will attend a Sunday auction, and bring up his child in the way he should not go to do the same

Oh! young Argentines, Anglo-Argentines, Franco Argentines, Italo-Argentines, weigh it well; do not fall into so great an error. Give a proof of your civilization and Christian training.

I have said—and done. Dear STANDARD, the rest lies with you.

I am,
Yours truly,
NICHOLAS LOWE

The Bond Market ruled so excited to-day that at one time i looked as if a panic had seized holders. Prices opened at 80¾ cash; but soon b nds came in offering for the end of the month so fast, that the few who tried to sustain the market gave way, and prices fell off in a swoop from 8 2 to 80. The sales during business hours were—

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| For cash, | 5,000 at | 80¾ |
| 31st Jan., | 25,000, | 80¾ |
| ,, | 10,000, | 80¾ |
| ,, | 50,000, | 80¾ |
| ,, | 50,000, | 80¾ |
| ,, | 20,000, | 80¾ |
| ,, | 20,000, | 80¾ |
| ,, | 20,000, | 80. |

The bell rang out two o'clock as the marker noted he sale at 80, and there was a pause The brokers themselves seemed astonished at the fall, so sudden and in the face of such an easy money market. But two days ago not even the most experienced broker expected such a reaction: the storm had come up in a moment, and no one seemed able to say how it won'd end or how long i would last. As a matter of course, every possible rumor was current—first that the Provincial Bank was selling, then that the Germans were selling and last that some native brokers were realising. All these, howev r, appear incorrect. The fact is that holders who bought cheap are now realising, and the stir in the stock has been caused by the impression that the Provincial Bank must move off some of its stock to pay off the Nat Government deposits. It was said by some parties that the Bank has received an offer for all its Bonds from abroad, and at par, provided the Bank itself guarantees the coupons; and there s ems some good foundation for this but the excitement in the bond market is severe, and not likely to pass off so quickly as people think. Men who bought yesterday sold heavily to-day, and those who bought to day were strong sellers yesterday. In the liquidation some 300,000 bonds were sold, but it was noted that one well known English broker was buying freely for the end of the month, and prices recovered slightly about 4 o'clock when this broker took up 60,000 for the end of the month that a bear was hawking through the room.

Exchange shows no effect whatever; the rate to-day was 49¼ for England, and 5,29 for Antwerp but little done, there seems to be a set to fight between drawers and takers with the brokers standing between both parties.

| | | |
| Cash A, | 4,000 at | 98½. |

but in the liquidation prices fell off, and sales were made at 98¼, and it was even said under.

The Montevidean telegram gave—

Havre, Jeanine.
Cardiff, Mermaid.
Bordeaux, Nuovo Conolan.
Pictou, Parana.
Liverpool, Lady Carlin.
A lot of hides at 87, from Concordia.
3,000 ar. fine wool, 40.
Porvenir shares, 56.
Progreso, 52.
Fortuna, 18.
Montevidean; 31½.
Playa, 20.

All the speculation going on in Montevideo now seems to be in land, and prices keep rising. Will it last?

Mr. Niehbuhr was welcomed on 'Change to-day on his return from Montevideo.

In the barraquero's room to-day there was more of a stir than on last Saturday. The payments were fully a half as much again as on last Saturday, s ill the export trade is not the thing. The Germans are not buying, and when the Germans are out of the wool market there is no activity. A few French and American buyers have the Plaza to themselves. At the banks there was not much movement; this shows a drop in the exchange business. The dep sits on application for National Bank shares have caused a little movement in money, but otherwise there is nothing to note. First class bills are done at 6 ¼ to 7, and call loans on Gas shares done to-day at 6.

The Vanguard and Galatea are both looked for. Shipbrokers report business at a standstill, and as hard to get 100 bales to-day as to get 1000 bales this time last year. Freights were never weaker. People paying demurrage, they s y, will take bales at any rate. A large vessel, 700 tons, was chartered to-day to load at Tuyu only salted hides and tallow at 3·8 and 5 per cent: she only takes 300 tons of cargo. Bales are quoted at 17s 6d and 20s; but even for steamers bales are scarce and Martin Garcia ballast is in demand. Th freight market never looked worse, and shippers in this respect can almost arrange their own prices.

At Bullrich's to-day there was a great horse auction. Standard Court was crowded, much to the inconvenience of subscribers Some horses were knocked down for 80$ m/c.

The National Bank board has at last cried out "hold enough"—the notice will be found in our advertisement column—subscriptions after to-day may amount to nil, as the capital is now more than covered.

Owing to the rumours about the Cafe de Paris wall and Mr. Rom's new Court—the Municipality sent its engineer to-day to survey it, who reports it all right, no fear of tumbling.

Mr. Carl Focke of Bremen was welcomed on 'Change to-day as the great pioneer River Plate wool broker in Bremen. Mr. Focke knows this country we l and has done it good service by opening up Bremen as a new market for River Plate wools; our trade with that port is steadily growing as will appear by the following figures:

River Plate wool imported into Bremen—

|---|---|
| In 1872, bales | 25,000 |
| In 1871, ,, | 11,000 |
| In 1870, ,, | 4,000 |

These figures are highly satisfactory. Mr. F after an absence of 3½ years from Buenos Ayres now pays a flying visit to the Plate." He says that he was astonished to see how much we have all advanced whi st he was away. Buenos Ayres is stretching out immensely, and is quite a different city to what it was when he left for Bremen.

Some important transactions in saladero produce were concluded to day on 'Change.

8,000 do Concepcion at 59½
Corresponding tallow at 16½ f.
10,000 ox hides, Nazar's saladero, Tuyu, at 56
Tallow 15½

The National Government named General Mitre to-day Plenipotentiary to proceed to Paraguay to make treaty.

General Arredondo leaves in a week for the Interior. We heard to-day that the General is in favor of Dr. Avellaneda as our future President. The General is the Warwick of the day.

We published some remarks to day about the charge for collecting Bolsa subscriptions, as s t forth in the report. To these remarks we have received the following answer from Mr. Rom, the talented manager of the Bolsa—

"Allow me to rectify your assertion that there is a staff of clerks in the Bolsa. There is only one clerk besides the manager an accountant; the rest of the staff is composed of newspaper reporters and of the private clerks of your most obedient servant,

"M. J. ROM."

In the morning Mr. George Ponsonby Crauford, accompanied by Mr. James A. Dalglish, leave in the Republica for Rosario en route for Rioja. This looks well for the province, As there is at present very much spoken about the mineral wealth of Rioja, the following particulars may be found interesting—

"The Rioja mines are likely to be soon brought into prominent notice. There are three different mining districts in that province, Caldera, Cerro Negro and Mejicana, which are known collectively by the name of Famatina mines. The Mejicana district is by far the richest, and competent persons who have examined it look forward to a day not far distant when it will acquire a world wide reputation. A sample of ores, about 5 tons, which was shipped to England from this district some time ago created a commotion among mining brokers and dealers in Liverpool, so much so that an English gentleman who came out here some few months ago in connection with mining enterprise brought out with him a copy of the account sales of this sample, and was anxiously enquiring for the district from which they had come. Famatina is said to be a corruption of fama-tiene, and this shows that even amongst the natives up there the place has had a great mining repute.

The article in the Pampa this morning on the Bank question was the great topic on 'Change; nearly every one on the Bolsa condemned it as intemperate, and calculated to cause harm. The subject is a very different one from that of the impeachment of Judge Agrelo, and requires other handling. No one better than Mr. Paz himself can understand this, and the credit and stability of such a splendid people's institution as the Provincial Bank is too important to us all to be imperilled by newspaper attacks. Merchants and others confide in the sound common sense of Mr. Paz to abstain from anything calculated to alarm the public, or bring about another Cornac crisis.

Mr. Carmody, the agent and inspector of an English company that holds important concessions for the supply of gas and water to the different towns of Entre Rios, as also Salto and Paysandu, has arrived, having arranged with the different local authorities for the sites for the works; as also the titles to the property. The machinery is being constructed in England, and may be looked for in a few days, when the works will be prosecuted without delay. This is rather a good sign for Entre Rios and the Banda Oriental, and Mr. Carmody's name is a guarantee that the works will be well and efficiently carried out, having already built the gas works in Rosario, and other important works.

Mr. Wicken's new book on the Argentine colonies was given round to-day. It is one of the most important works of the kind that has as yet been published, and is most exhaustive. The book is supplied with plans, &c., 354 pages, and calls for a special review. It will probably work much good. The following figures respecting the colonies we extract from page 296; they will give our mercantile readers a correct idea of the importance of these colonies. There are 153½ leagues under the colonies—

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Province of | Cordova.... | 8 |
| Do | Entre Rios.. | 19 |
| Do | Santa Fe .. | 135½ |

Of this 75 leagues are settled upon by 3185 families, composed of 16,678 persons, giving 222 persons per league. The following are the nationalities—

|---|---|
| 5857 | Swiss |
| 4157 | Italians |
| 2361 | Argentines |
| 1889 | French |
| 1483 | Germans |
| 486 | English |
| 215 | Spaniards |
| 82 | North Americans |
| 51 | Belgians |
| 42 | Danes |
| 15 | Brazilians |
| 11 | Chilians |
| 10 | Swedes |
| 6 | Poles |
| 5 | Paraguayans |
| 2 | Orientals |

The sale of the Kratzenstein chacra in San Martin was announced to-day for the round sum of 1,600,000 m/c which gives about 11,000 per square.

The sale of Mr. Kratzenstein's quinta at the Chacarita is also spoken of at 120,000 m/c per square. The business is not yet closed, prices about the highest ever known in that locality.

A French barque entered port yesterday with a flock of Rambouillet rams, during the voyage 8 died.

The crowd at the National Bank to-day was as great as ever, and there is much complaint about the great delays in getting the certificates, more clerks are required for the despatch of business.

Estancieros and others at Bragado are anxious to know when the branch from Chivilcoy will be begun, it appears that the route has been marked out, and the delay in commencing the works is red tape.

The firm of Hugh F. Wilson & Co. is gone into liquidation, having transferred the printing office and newspaper belonging to said firm to the new firm of Stephen Webster & Co., by whom the River Plate Times will henceforth be carried on. Mr. Webster is long and favorably known in the Plate. From the 1st inst. all receipts &c. are for account of the new firm.

The well known and leading firm of D. C. Thompson & Co., agents for Chubb & Sons, we heard to-day, hold the order for the safes for the National Bank in this city, and the same firm has also the order for the strong room. We believe that it is for the branches that Mr. Sandford has obtained the order.

Among the recent arrivals from New York is Mr, George L. Winsor, who has located in the River Plate as sole agent for this Republic and Uruguay for the sale of the Fairbanks scales and the arms of the Winchester Repeating Arms Co. (15 to 18 shots), James Connor & Sons, celebrated type founders, and several large manufactories of agricultural implements.

An American merchant has favored us with the following received by the last mail, which may interest the brokers in this market—

"The 'corner' in North-Western Railway shares, which caused so much excitement on the New York Stock Exchange, has ended, and matters have resumed their wonted quietness. The 'bears' have all settled, excepting Henry N. Smith, and he has to some extent compromised, although lawsuits will grow out of the case. Mr. J Gould and the victorious 'bulls' are said to have made five to eight millions of dollars out of the 'corner,' Daniel Drew being the heaviest loser. The capital employed in making up the pool is back in its usual channels, and North-West shares are sluggish at the old price of 80, the settlement having been made at from 125 to 60. This is said to have been the completest 'corner' in Wall-street for years, the 'bulls' having had possession of every available share in the market. The 'bulls' take great credit to themselves for having bled the 'bears' with such discrimination as only to take from each as much as he could pay without forcing him into bankruptcy. The New York newspapers continue their moral essays on the baleful effects of these operations; but as the gentry to whom they are addressed are clad in rhinoceros hides, they do not make much impression. The public, however, are hoping that Drew, Smith, and C. may get up some operation which will effectually clean out Mr. Gould. We are believers in retributive justice in stock gambling. Public attention now is chiefly directed, in this connexion, to the Erie suit for extensive thieving operations against Gould. Great reliance is placed by Gould on a dollar's worth of release and absolution which he, Fisk, and Lane were so fortunate as to receive from the Erie Railway in December, 1871, this release, signed by a committee of two, covering every possible claim which could be made against the trio for acts committed from the Creation down to the thirty-first day of November, 1871,' whenever that was. Gould is endeavouring to get the order of arrest (for which he is now bailed) vacated, and the 2d of December is fixed for argument. The Erie Directors declare they will press him to the wall."

"At Washington information has been received that in consequence of the disturbed condition of political affairs in France, the German War Minister has issued orders that all German vessels leaving German ports shall increase the rates of passage for emigrants, so as to prevent them from leaving if possible, as they may be wanted at home for military service. This action is much criticized at Washington, but the German Legation gives the assurance that it is taken for self-protection only."

"Washington, November 23d.—The November report of the Statistician of the Department of Agriculture gives the indicated total product of cotton, in comparison with the small crop of 1871, showing an average of about 16 per cent. increase, with an area in cultivation larger by 12 to 13 per cent. The greatest losses from the prevalence of the army and boll-worm are found in Florida and Alabama. In Louisiana, Mississippi and Georgia local damage has also been heavy. In Arkansas a material reduction of the yield was caused by drought in July and August. The comparison by States with last year's crop is as follows—North Carolina 121, South Carolina 124, Georgia 119, Florida 102, Alabama 111, Mississippi 112, Louisiana 121, Texas 126, Arkansas 115, Tennessee 110, Missouri, Virginia, Illinois and other States, which together produced 55,000 bales in 1860, and in which cotton culture was stimulated in several subsequent years, now scarcely yield ten per cent. of that amount. The total production, as indicated by the returns of the first week in November, is very nearly 3,450,000 commercial bales."

The Land-fever increases. The excitement is at such a height that it is asserted there was an offer today of $1 per square vara for the Fortuna Co. lands at the Union. Porvenir shares, which hardly found sale last week at 20 premium, are at present at 160 cash, or 164 for the end of February. Men's minds are almost unhinged in the rush for the Fomentos so long neglected, and even expelled from the Bolsa two months ago. Anything in the shape of land shares commands now fancy prices, and the quotations of the best-known companies as above stated may be considered firm, with a still rising tendency. Parties who offered lands in the suburbs at 500$ per cuadra last November would not sell now for ten times that figure. Of course there must be a lull and limit to all this, but while the excitement lasts it is useless to talk of Internal Debt or anything else. There was a sale of 3,000$ Pacification to-day at 1 prem.

The controversy continues with the Italian Legation about Mr. Dia's claim of £100,000 for false imprisonment.

The Karnack had not to throw overboard any of her cargo at Sandy Point, but got off, uninjured, with a high tide.

Thirteen proposals were opened for the building of the new Orphan Asylum, ranging from $45,220 up to $86,640. The most preferable were those of John Demarchi (45,220$) and Serafin Balsarino (47,720), but as neither of these gentlemen was in a position to give solvent guarantee the Committee accepted the tender of Don Antonio Cataneo, for 50,000$, and the latter transferring his rights to an architect nam Bernardo Poncini the papers were duly made out in this person's name and the contract signed.

The Department of Public Works calls for tenders for repairs, new paving, asphalt, and whitewashing, of the Central Market built by the late Mr. Havers. Proposals stating time required and cost of work must be sent in to Mr De La Hanty, Secretary, by 2 p.m. on the 26th inst (Saturday).

The bell-buoy on the English Bank has been successfully placed by the pilots Crovetto, Sosa, Mortes, Lasharten and Lombard, in the steamer Raggio. It is visible 3 miles in clear weather and when foggy the bell can be heard. The buoy is of iron, with bell painted red, anchored in 28 ft. of water, hard sandy bottom, 10 miles S.E. of the English Bank, 35.13 S. Lat., and 55.46 Long. W. of Greenwich.

Mr. Rucker's report for December shews that the Post Office produced $8,497, having despatched inwards 38,237 letters and 16,650 newspapers, and outwards 47,432 letters and 94,212 papers. The aggregate makes up 85,669 letters and 110,862 papers, which is equal to more than half the business of B. Ayres. The many improvements introduced by Mr. Rucker are admitted on all hands. Letters arrived from Europe are given out in an hour or two, and lists of those without clear addres es are posted up by the following morning. The officials are attentive and polite.

Lloyd's list of Dec. 11th has the following casualties of vessels on the River Plate trade.

The Batavia from B. Ayres to London was abandoned on fire, Nov. 5th, in Lat. 12 N., Long. 30 W. The crew were saved by the Norseman from Valparaiso, which landed them at Liverpool, Dec. 10th.

The Brazilian from Antwerp for Buenos Ayres, according to Antwerp telegrams yesterday, has been abandoned at sea; crew landed at Corunna, Spain.

The same paper mentions that the Franklin, bound from Hamburg to California, with 178 emigrants on board, stranded at Vlieland, and only 100 of the passengers were saved.

The Telegrafo says that a good many important transactions in wool and hides are under treaty, but not yet concluded.

The amortization of $183, 577 of Internal Debt, 2nd series, was duly carried out by the Junta of Public Credit, at 68.

The total amount of paper money converted up to last night was $3,901,374, which shews that 830,000 sovereigns have been given out, since Nov. 11th, by the Credit Junta. No wonder that sovereigns and coppers are now the principal money in circulation.

Besides the sales of the Marquez, Ramon Gomez, and Villa Colon quintas reported a few days ago in this column the Telegrafo gives the following:—

| | varas. | | cents. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Garcia Vich sold | 65,000, | Tres Cruces, at | 40 |
| La Cueva ,, | 100,000, | Pozitos, at | 80 |
| N. N. ,, | 140,000, | Penarol, at | 85 |
| ,, ,, ,, | 340,000, | V. Colon, at | 17 |
| Sartory ,, | 180,000, | P. Molino, at | 35 |
| J. M. Perez ,, | 240,000, | Tres Cruces at | 75 |

It is said that Sr. Rivers has refused 120,000$ for his quinta in front of Buschonthal's. As the cuadra of Montevideo has 10,000 sq. varas it will be seen that the above sales reach up to 8,600$ per cuadra, equal to 500,000$ m/c. for a square of land at B. Ayres.

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current is now so generally felt and appreciated in the great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo, and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need arises, or else go, instead of spending them in immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following as noble example of their firm in Montevideo, will offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

For sale in the Departamento de Ajos, Republica del Paraguay, from sixty to seventy legeuas of camp, comprising sixteen estancias, with houses, galpones, &c. bounded by the rivers Tebicuary, Mini and Manduvira. This camp abounds in magnificent timber, besides possessing a valuable quarry of 'piedra de afilar,' and is abundantly watered. To give an idea as to the quality of same, it is only necessary to state that the last owner was the richest man in Paraguay before the war, possessing at the commencement of hostilities upwards of two hundred thousand head of horned cattle.

This is a magnificent opportunity for speculators, as the above will be sold cheap, to close a 'testamentaria' account.

Titles unexceptionable.

N.B.—Also for sale several other valuable properties, some with frontage to the River Paraguay.

THE magnificent camp in Corrientes known as the Tranquera de Loreto, or 'Campo Santa Maria'; this camp contains twenty square leagues, more or less, and is one of the best watered in the province, being bounded by the River Parana. In the driest seasons the cattle on this estancia have always turned out in fine condition.

This camp is situated within easy access by water of the Rio Paraguay, and a purchaser could clear the cost of purchase within one year by simply selling a part of the timber with which it is covered. By the employment of a moderate capital, one hundred thousand arrobas of yerba could be annual y 'beneficiado,' yielding to the owner a nett profit of upward of a patacon per arroba.
